

Advance Information

Dreams of May

A stage script

by Sue Guiney

Featuring 22 poems for a single voice, Sue Guiney describes a journey that starts on a train and travels throughout a tumultuous range of emotions before finding a peace in dreams.

Reviews

"I would very much recommend this book, its images have stayed with me for weeks following a single reading"

Gold Dust

"Sue Guiney has the art of drawing the audience in to her world, and setting your mind off on flights of fancy. "

Theatre World

The play was first performed at Pentametres Theatre in Hampstead in 2007 before being produced in literary festivals and universities around the UK. Five years later, it is now presented in an updated form for a new audience.
